Keywords: patriotism, political, spiritual, moral, spiritual patriotism.

It is known from history that our great ancestor Amir Temur attached special importance to the constant combat readiness of his soldiers. He demanded that his chosen generals demonstrate their military skills not only in times of war, but also during peaceful labor. Due to constant military training and the development of military art, he was the first in the history of world military art to introduce the order of deploying the army into seven arms on the battlefield. The careful development of such tactics and the determination and skill in their implementation served as a source of victory. Even today, time itself shows the need to develop and improve such practices. More effective work is being done to further improve the existing weapons in the army, provide it with highly qualified personnel, and create a professional army. Currently, it is one of the important conditions to pay special attention to the political, spiritual, moral, and spiritual patriotism of the military units and units of our Armed Forces with well-educated personnel.

Under the conditions of reforms in the military sphere, the Armed Forces are gaining a new quality. Structural changes have been carried out in our army, military doctrine is aimed at defense and its development based on quality and intellectual priorities. In this regard, today every fighter of our Motherland is required to work hard, have a high sense of patriotism, conscientiously fulfill his military duty, and take personal responsibility. Maintaining a high level of combat readiness, improving combat skills, strengthening order and discipline is the share of every soldier in ensuring the country's defense power. High and responsible tasks before the Armed Forces of the Republic of Uzbekistan can be performed only by a person who is healthy, physically strong and resilient, mentally formed, has high moral and fighting qualities, and is ready to fulfill his patriotism and civic duty in the defense of the Motherland. In the conditions of the army, the soldier's ability to effectively use his physical, mental and spiritual qualities in the process of military service depends to a large extent on the effectiveness of the training of the teenagers before the draft and of the draft age.

Education centers have a special place in raising the young generation to become people who are loyal to the country, the motherland, faithful, brave and courageous, and highly qualified. The main directions of initial training before the draft are aimed at educating the growing generation in the spirit of physical, spiritual and moral, patriotism and state defense and readiness for work. The main tasks of preparing young people before the draft include basic military knowledge, physical training, studying the military history and symbols of their country, forming a warrior and a patriotic citizen. In the process of education, young people are taught the following:

- to understand one's constitutional rights and obligations, to know the Constitution of the Republic of Uzbekistan, about the protection of the Motherland and its protection from armed aggression;
- that the military doctrine of the Republic of Uzbekistan is focused on defense;
- Tasks of the Armed Forces of the Republic of Uzbekistan and other troops;

- Laws of the Republic of Uzbekistan "On Defense" "On General Military Obligation and Military Service", Decision of the Cabinet of Ministers of the Republic of Uzbekistan "On Organization of Service of Citizens of the Republic of Uzbekistan", "On the main provisions of "Inclusion and exclusion of citizens of the Republic of Uzbekistan from the military list, criminal and administrative liability for committing a war crime and refusing military service"; - To study and understand the basic requirements of the Regulations of the Armed Forces of the Republic of Uzbekistan and the military oath;

- getting acquainted with the weapons and military equipment of the military unit, the lifestyle and location of the personnel;

- to acquire the basics of military work, the necessary military knowledge and practical skills, as well as physical training and to be mentally and spiritually strong;

- mastering the basics of civil protection and medical knowledge;

- The process of YOCHQBT is to ensure that young people perform their constitutional duty perfectly and master modern combat weapons and military equipment assigned to them in a short period of time. In providing military training to young people, it is envisaged to teach them the exercises, actions and 10 actions performed in the combat training activities of the military units, as close as possible to the combat training activities of the troops in the military units. Working with pre-college and pre-college teenagers is a multifaceted and unique process. Because not all of them have stable views on life, character and traditions. Our young people are full of energy, enthusiasm, and they have a strong sense of self-expression, but not all young people are able to direct it to the benefit of society or the community. Therefore, it is good to have a faithful and loyal friend, a close adviser, a skilled teacher who will always instill in their hearts noble traditions, moral principles, patriotism and humane feelings. A strong army and a stable state cannot be built without love for the country, pride in the profession of being a defender of the country, and education that does not respect one's history and traditions of ancestors. Full implementation of tasks related to the education of young people before the draft and of the draft age will allow to train professional army representatives consisting of true patriots and qualified specialists of their work. In order to fulfill such a serious, highly responsible and honorable task, initial training in educational institutions before the call-up is of particular importance.

Loving the country is our sunnah. "To love the country is from faith," it is said in the Hadith. Every believer who loves the Motherland, feels what the Motherland is, misses it when they are far away from it, and strives for the Motherland wherever they are, will live with the sorrow of the country throughout their life. They are devoted, patriotic, clear-minded, thoughtful people. Jalaluddin Manguberdi is worried about the country's troubles and goes to war. Despite the fact that he is seventy years old, Amir Temur goes on a long journey in the bitter winter in order to prevent the danger from the east. Many such examples can be cited from every century, from the activities of representatives of every field. Our country gained independence thanks to the fact that such selfless people are living together in our century. However, in order to understand the true nature of independence and appreciate it, it is not enough to talk about our achievements. The burden of independence is heavy. The example of our troops proves how difficult it is to bear and preserve. We had to go through innumerable difficulties to preserve the independence of our country surrounded by forces that wanted to include our country in their sphere of influence and were ready to use all tricks and military force for this.

Therefore, it can be said that educational institutions, especially military leaders, are of great importance in preparing young men and women who are able to protect the country by educating young people in the honorable work of protecting the Motherland. As the President noted, "Educational centers have a special purpose in raising the young generation to become people who are loyal to the country, the Motherland, religious, brave and brave, and highly skilled and highly qualified."
